

Janoschka expands flexo network

Kippenheim, 6 August 2012. Janoschka is expanding its flexo network to Spain and will produce flexographic printing plates near Barcelona in future. Janoschka Barcelona will widen its product range and besides graphic services, they will also provide flexographic services for the local market in the medium term.

Janoschka Barcelona is the sixth Janoschka production site that specializes amongst other things in the production of flexographic printing formes. It is planned to commence operations in the 4th quarter 2012 after having moved into new and extended premises.

Currently the flexographic market is being provided with plates and rotary printing formes for flexographic printing by Janoschka branches in Germany, Portugal and Argentina.

Just as the sister companies Fentsch Packaging Solutions and Repro-Form in Germany, Janoschka Barcelona will as well offer the state-of-the-art HD Flexo technology. HD Flexo combines high-definition 4000 ppi lenses with the latest screen technology and ensures exceptional printing quality and stability. Specially edited screen dots with a higher full-tone density arrange for bright colours in the package printing.
