

Fentsch now HD Flexo partner

Kippenheim, 15 May 2013. In collaboration with an international printer, the second Janoschka branch has now been HD Flexo certified by Esko.

After Repro-Form in 2012, Fentsch Packaging Solutions has become a certified HD Flexo partner recently in April.

HD Flexo is a new process for making digital flexographic (flexo) plates. HD Flexo may be implemented without scrapping existing equipment and working methods. Bringing consistency, vibrant colors and increased print quality, HD Flexo raises the industry standard in flexo printing.

“The introduction of the HD Flexo technology was an exciting project. With state-of-the-art equipment and skilled competence we offer our customers a broad flexo portfolio. The benefits for our customers are top priority for us”, says Rainer Geiger, Managing Director Fentsch Packaging Solutions and SBU Manager Flexo.

Fentsch Packaging Solutions is one of six Janoschka branches worldwide producing flexo plates and sleeves with most modern technologies (Esko, Kodak Thermoflex, Kodak Flexcel, nyloflex NeXT).
